

China and International Development

CIDRN's Public Event Series

Date: Thursday, November 26, 2015

Time: 17:00-18:30

Venue: Vanda Hall B, Convention Centre of Beijing Landmark Hotel

NO. 18

China's Commitments to the SDGs: Opportunities and Challenges for Global Poverty Reduction

What's in it for you?

In this public event, we invite you to hear the insightful views from both Chinese and international scholars and development practitioners on China's commitments to the SDGs and the opportunities and challenges they may bring to global poverty reduction.

Moderator

Ms. Wang Yihuan

Director/Professor of Research Centre for International Development/College of Humanities and Development Studies, China Agricultural University

Panelists

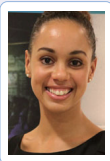

Mr. Ye Jiang

Director/Professor of the Institute for Global Governance Studies, Shanghai Institutes for International Studies (SIIS)

Mr. Lars Gronvald

Head of Cooperation Section, EU Delegation to China and Mongolia

Ms. Hannah Ryder

Head of Policy and Partnership, UNDP China

Ms. Geng Ming

Deputy Director, Policy, Advocacy, and Government Relations, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation China Office

About CIDRN's Public Event Series

The global political and economic order has been substantially changed over the last decade. The development experiences from emerging powers have attracted great attention from both the developed and the developing world in coping with traditional and new challenges.

It aims at sharing knowledge on international development with outstanding individuals and institutions, both within China and abroad, to develop a knowledge pool on international development in China, to facilitate the exchange between China and the international development community.

Organized by:

China International Development Research Network (CIDRN) With the support of College of Humanities and Development Studies (COHD)/Research Center for International Development (RCID), China Agricultural University (CAU)

Supported by:

UK Department for International Development (DFID)

Contact:

Prof. Wang Yihuan and Dr. Zhang Chuanhong

Email: rcid@cau.edu.cn

Tel: 010-62737745

Web: <http://rcid.cau.edu.cn>